rhythm

Parkinson rollator with adjustable cues

The Rollz Motion Rhythm is developed for people with a disrupted gait pattern or who suffer from freezing episodes.

This very stable rollator encourage the start of a rhythmic gait pattern with the help of three cues: laser, sound, vibration.

Regain your walking pace with Rollz Motion Rhythm

This versatile rollator can be used by physiotherapists and other professionals supporting patients rehabilitating from neurological or mobility-impacting injuries.

Three Cues

This Parkinson rollator gives multiple stimuli to step out of a freeze: a laser line on the ground, vibration in the handlebars and a metronome with two different sound tones. The three cues can be combined as desired.

Start the pattern

The laser, vibration and sound indicate the desired walking rhythm. You choose the cues and set the tempo in the module on the rollator. By pressing the button on the handlebar, the rhythmic pattern starts.

Speed up or slow down

The pace of the cues can be lightly accelerated to stimulate the user to walk faster. Or the pace can be set slower, for smoother movements.

Two tones

Variation in pitch of the metronome prevents habituation, this way the user stays focused. These tones can also be played via the smartphone.

Smartphone app

The vibration, pitch and sound intensity can be adjusted in the corresponding app on the smartphone. Via the app, the pattern length of the cues can be set to: 8x, 16x, 32x or nonstop.

"I was looking for a rollator that does not look like one. Going shopping just feels good now as this rollator is so easy to manoeuvre!"

rollz flex

On the go with Rollz Flex²

Design rollator with large bag

At first glance, it does not appear to be a walking aid. This was exactly the intention of the designers, to create an enjoyable design for going outdoors. This rollator manoeuvres easily and you can walk stable and comfortable, while the bag carries your groceries.

See the Rollz Flex in action:

Manoeuvrable

You can easily manoeuvre anywhere, even in between obstacles. The front and rear wheels are set close to each other, and this way your rollator rotates close around you. It allows you to turn smoothly in a narrow space.

If you make a turn, the wheels do not get in the way. You can step aside easily and take something out of a closet or rack. The Rollz Flex² functions the same even when the bag is loaded to its capacity.

With ease you can go up the kerbs with the help of the kerb assistant.
